

Bennett Photographic Slides

Bennett's slides of his individual works of art are located in the Volumes 1 to 18 of the Art Notebooks. Slides showing a few works by EB's personal artist friends (for which EB made a special descriptive file card) are included in Volume 19 of the Art Notebooks. The remainder of EB's slides are located in the Slide Notebooks, as described in what follows.

"VISUAL DISCOVERIES"

Bennett selected about 100 of his slides and organized them under the heading of "Visual Discoveries". Most of them were stored in a carousel, apparently for use in a slide presentation. About 20 were stored together in a plastic sleeve. Many of the slides had descriptions written on them, and EB also wrote some descriptive notes (not always legible). These notes and printed images of the slides are included with the slides at the beginning of this collection. Cross references are made from these slides to their chronological places in the full collection

CHRONOLOGICAL FILES

The great majority of the slides were dated, mostly by the developer, but some only by EB. These dated slides have been filed in the notebooks in chronological order, from 1942 to 1998. The slides that were originally in carousels have been integrated in their chronological order, but they are separately identified as to their original location in one of the sets of carousels. The slides in the 3 sets of carousels covering EB's travels in France and Italy during 1954-55 have been left in their original presentation sequence, although some are undated. It is important to remember that the dates used for organizing these slides are those printed or impressed on each slide by the developer, which will always be subsequent to the date on which the photo was actually taken

UNDATED SLIDES

A great many of the loose slides (those not stored in cabinet #3) are undated, and most of them do not contain any notation as to subject matter. These slides will be found beginning on page 772. Most if not all of these slides probably date from the 40s or 50s, before developers routinely printed or impressed a date on each slide. Many of these slides were neither given a written description nor organized into a specific category. Indeed, many slides appeared to have been randomly jumbled together with little or no semblance of order. An attempt has been made to organize these slides by film roll, the nature of the slide number (red, black, or impressed), the box or drawer in which they were found, and the apparent nature of the subject matter. In the descriptions that are provided, the term "probably" indicates that a guess has been made about the location where the photo was taken. Many of these guesses are surely in error, and researchers are urged to suggest alternatives as appropriate. Finally, one carousel contained undated commercial slides of paintings from the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Those are filed at the very end of this collection on pages 831 and 832.

1954 and 1955

The slides contained in pages 13 to 23 are from two carousels illustrating EB's travels in France during 1954 and 1955. They are arranged alphabetically by the names of the cities or towns. Also included are commercial slides of the stained-glass windows in Chartres Cathedral and of Chapelle du Rosaire in Vence by Matisse.

The slides contained in pages 24 to 30 are from two carousels illustrating EB's visits to Florence (Firenze) during 1954 and 1955. They include views of Florence, including buildings, bridges, and statues. Some include people; those identified are Lola, Ann, Bob, Tina, Betty, Carlos, Frank, Jenny, and Lorenzo. Twenty of the slides focus on billboards in Florence, San Gimignano, and Assisi.

1973 (part)

The slides contained in pages 228 to 244 are from three carousels illustrating EB's trip to the East Coast in 1973. They include views of Pennsylvania, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Virginia, and Washington DC, and of several museums. At least some of the trip was in the company of Andy Bucci, a colleague from EB's days in Art School in Chicago, and included a visit to Bucci's home in Virginia. Another named individual is Dan Kunz.

The slides contained in pages 289 to 310 are from 3 carousels illustrating EB's auto trip from Jacksonville along the Coast Highway to Los Angeles and return. The trip included visits to many historical buildings, museums, and the Watts Towers, and a visit to "Andy and Jack" in San Rafael on the return north

The slides contained in pages 357 to 372 are from four carousels illustrating EB's trip to Washington DC in 1977. In addition to views of street scenes and landscapes, most of the photos are devoted to scenes in museums and galleries. Andy Bucci is included in many photos, as is his home in rural Virginia. Several pages of EB's notes on the trip precede the pages of slides

The slides contained in pages 398 to 409 are from two carousels illustrating EB's trip to Washington DC in 1978 for the opening of the East Wing of the Phillips Collection and to New York for the Money exhibit. In addition to views of street scenes and landscapes, most of the photos are devoted to scenes in museums and galleries. Several pages of EB's notes on the slides precede the pages of slides.

The slides contained in pages 511 to 528 are from three carousels illustrating EB's trip to the East coast in 1980. There are many scenes in Boston and elsewhere along the New England coast, followed by a trip down the coast to Andy Bucci's home in Virginia. Visits to museums are recorded, and Andy and an unnamed man and woman are pictured. One page of EB's notes on the slides precedes the pages of slides.

The slides contained in pages 693 to 714 are from three carousels containing views taken during a trip to the East Coast in 1985. Street scenes, landscapes, and museum visits are included. New York and Washington DC are pictured, as well as small towns and rural areas. Andy Bucci, Bob Anderson, and several other unnamed people are seen. One page of EB's notes on the trip precede the pages of slides.
